Dear Boys and Girls of
Other Nations:

This has been an eventful year in the history of the world. It has seen a world, shattered and broken by the greatest struggle in history, strive to regain its feet. In the midst of these throes, other nations have paused briefly to gaze across the waters toward America, the Land of Opportunity. They have called for aid, and they shall have it! It is an integral part of the American way of life to help one's less fortunate neighbors.

Why is America prosperous today although other nations are experiencing poverty? A great many factors contribute to this tranquility and concord. In this HOUR GLASS, we have attempted to show you, Youth of Foreign Lands, a bit of our American "Way of Life".

Walk with us through the pages of the year just past - - - -

Board of Education

Few are aware of the time and unstinting effort put forth by the Board of Education in the management of our school's affairs. For their intelligent, efficient administration of the village schools, we wish to thank these men in appreciation of their wholly voluntary services in our behalf.

STUDENT ASSOCIATION OFFICERS

W. Grabb, Pres.; L. Fisk, Sec.; T. Bucher, Treas.;
R. Chesbro, Vice-Pres.

STUDENT ASSOCIATION

Democracy, in all truly American clubs, plays a leading role. Here, as elsewhere, our star is Democracy.

The Student Association renders invaluable services to its members, the students of F. H. S. It chooses its own officers, who officiate at its semi-annual meetings. Bill Grabb as president wields the gavel, while Bob Chesbro stands by to take over when Bill can't make it. Lillian Fisk keeps the minutes and Tom Bucher guards finances.

These young people head our Democracy, guiding our many varied interests.

FLAG CUSTODIANS

Each year a boy and a girl from the Senior Class are selected as custodians of the flag. It is their duty to care for the flag and to keep it flying every day. This year, the honor fell to Gertrude Miiller and Daniel Woolston, who did their job conscientiously in true devotion to duty.

Our Debt Cannot Be Paid . . .

Mr. Andrew C. Lynch

V. E. DAY

On May 8, 1945 the entire Student Body met to listen to the thrilling news of peace in Europe as it came in over the radio. Later in the morning Faculty and Students joined in a Candle-light Memorial Service in loving memory of those boys who had sacrificed their lives for Freedom and World Peace. As Mr. Lynch called the Roll of Honor, a candle was lighted in each boy's memory with the words: "At the Shrine of Victory, we light the Flame of Remembrance."

Dedication

Mr. Leon Warner

DEDICATION

As the curtain falls on the first act of the drama titled "Life", we look back to reflect upon our outstanding pleasures and enjoyments at F. H. S. Intermingled with every one of the high points in our high school life is the personality of Leon B. Warner.

Affectionately we call him "Pop". Truly he possesses fatherly skill in guiding high school pupils. In our underclass years we were amazed at the respect and admiration expressed by upperclassmen in reference to Mr. Warner. In our Junior year, we began to understand, for we found his mastery of history incredible. This year we gained full realization of his guiding genius. As a teacher and as a friend, Mr. Warner has proved to be our ideal.

In parting tribute, we wish to thank Mr. Warner for his patience with us and for his steady, experienced guiding hand. In appreciation of his understanding we, the class of 1946, dedicate this HOUR GLASS to our fondest high school memory, Leon B. Warner.

Mr. Warner with a group of appreciative students

They Helped Us Plan

Supt. Coffee and Mrs. Cotton, Secretary

SUPT. THOMAS G. COFFEE

A pleasant "Good morning" from the energetic figure coming down the hall! It is Mr. Coffee, the Superintendent of Fairport Schools. He guides us through our high school days, and many a Fairport alumni owes his present position to him. Outside his office, gardening and his family claim his most decided attentions. Mr. Coffee's many years of community activities have placed him in constant demand around Fairport as an organizer or a committee member. His dynamic personality is far-reaching, influencing all who come in contact with him.

Although Mrs. Cotton has been school secretary for only one year, she has already become adjusted to the ways of Fairport High School. Nearly everyone in school has come in contact with her cheery "Hello" or "May I help you?" Because of her helpfulness and patience she has won a place of respect and admiration in every heart.

Our Tomorrow

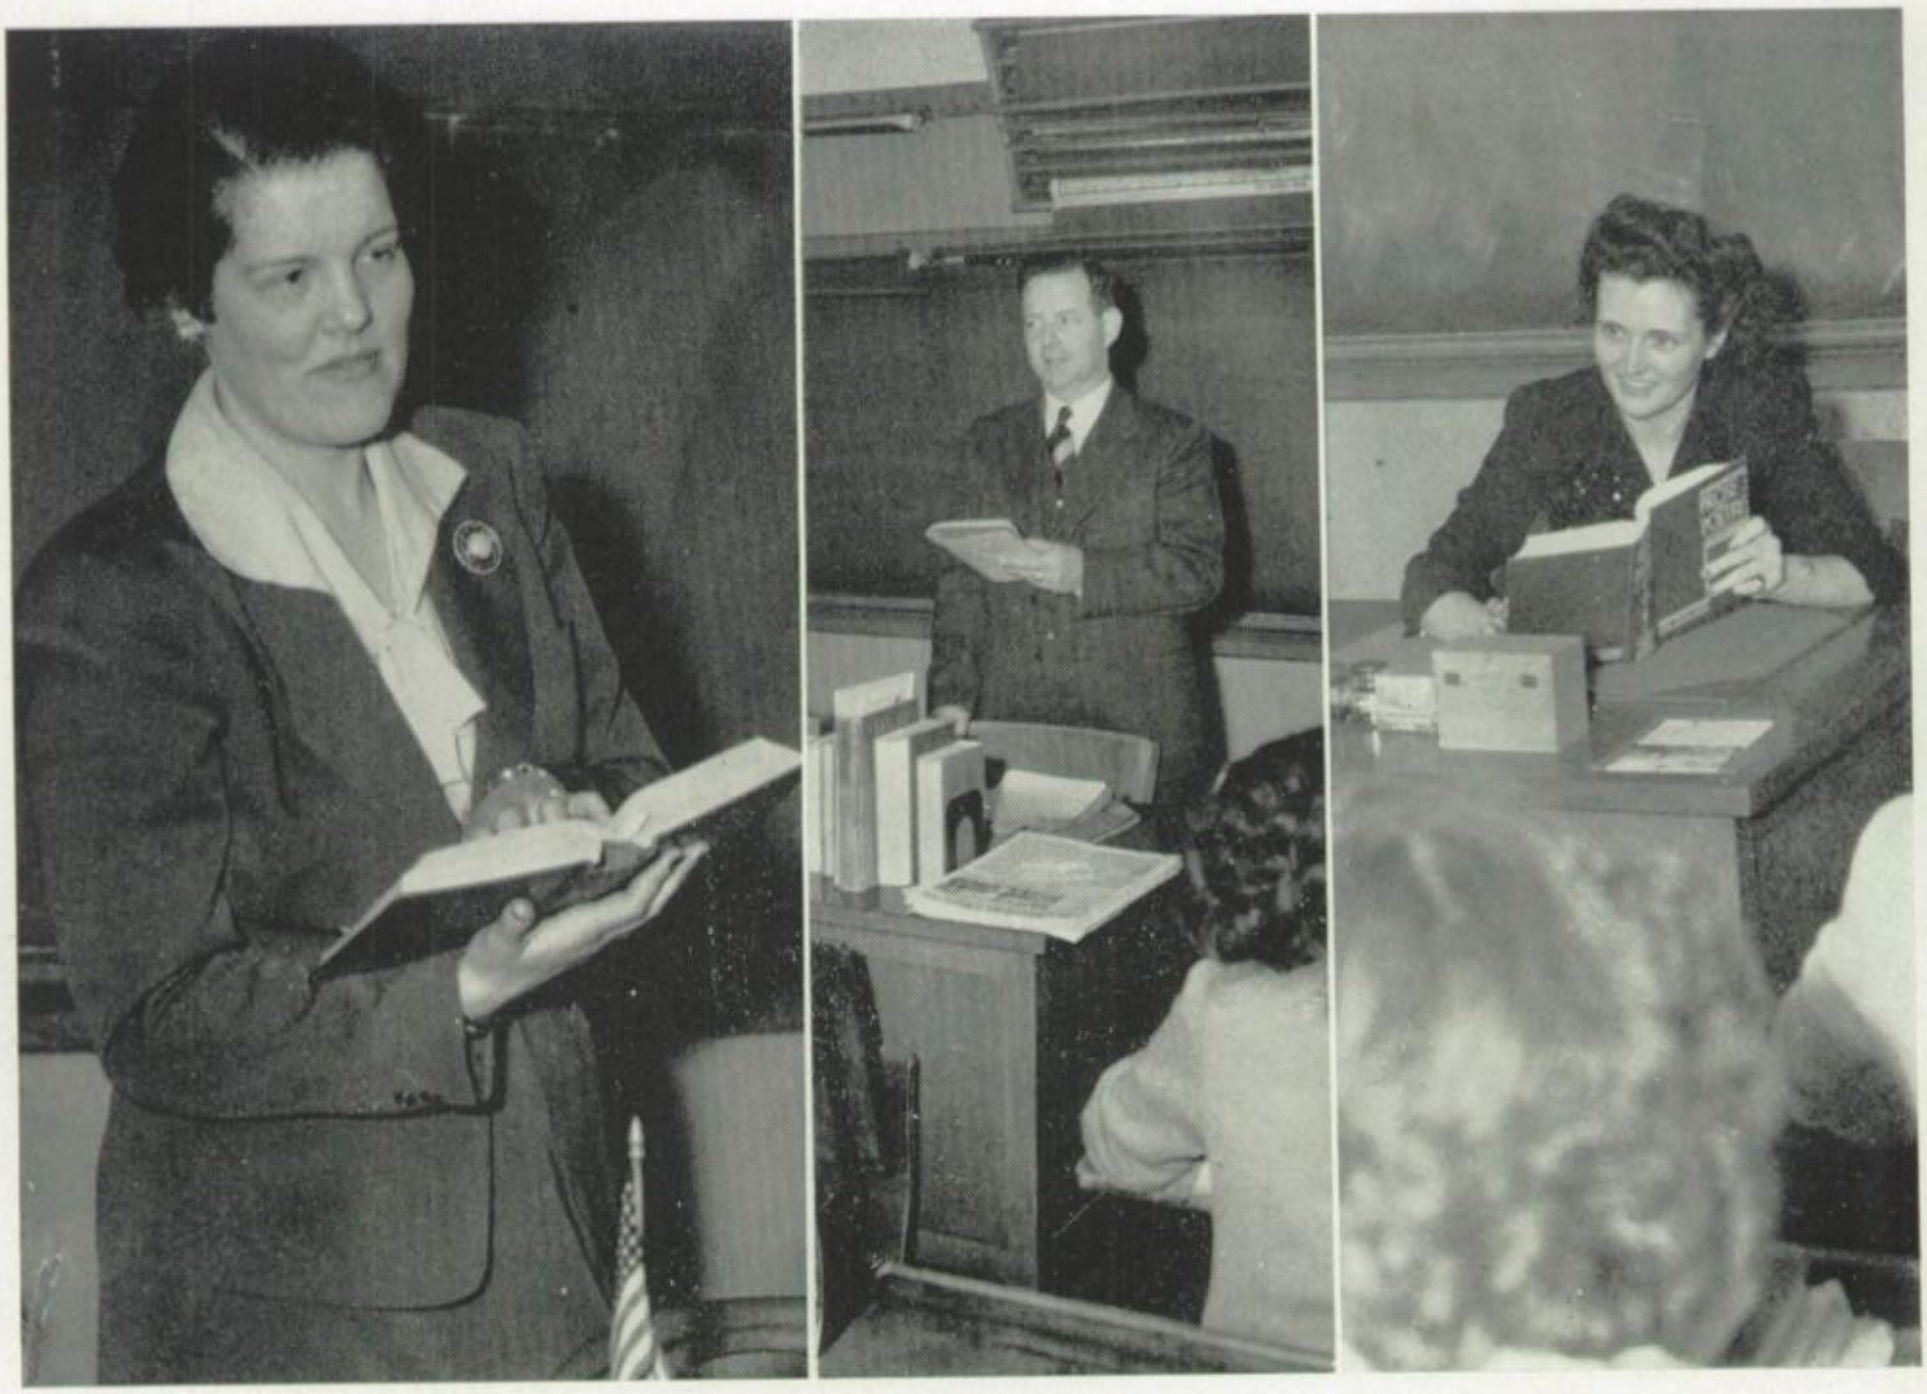
PRINCIPAL ANDREW C. LYNCH

The office at the end of the hall is usually empty, for the Principal of Fairport High School is a very occupied man. Answering his many telephone calls and calls from teachers and students throughout the day keeps him constantly on the move. His English III class produces an inspiring Christmas Program each year, with Mr. Lynch directing. In the spring, he coaches the male prize-speakers, but none surpasses his leader. His deep, ringing tones, flashing wit and vibrant personality transmit to everyone who hears him a message of true worth.



MISS SNOW — MR. LYNCH — MISS JOYCE

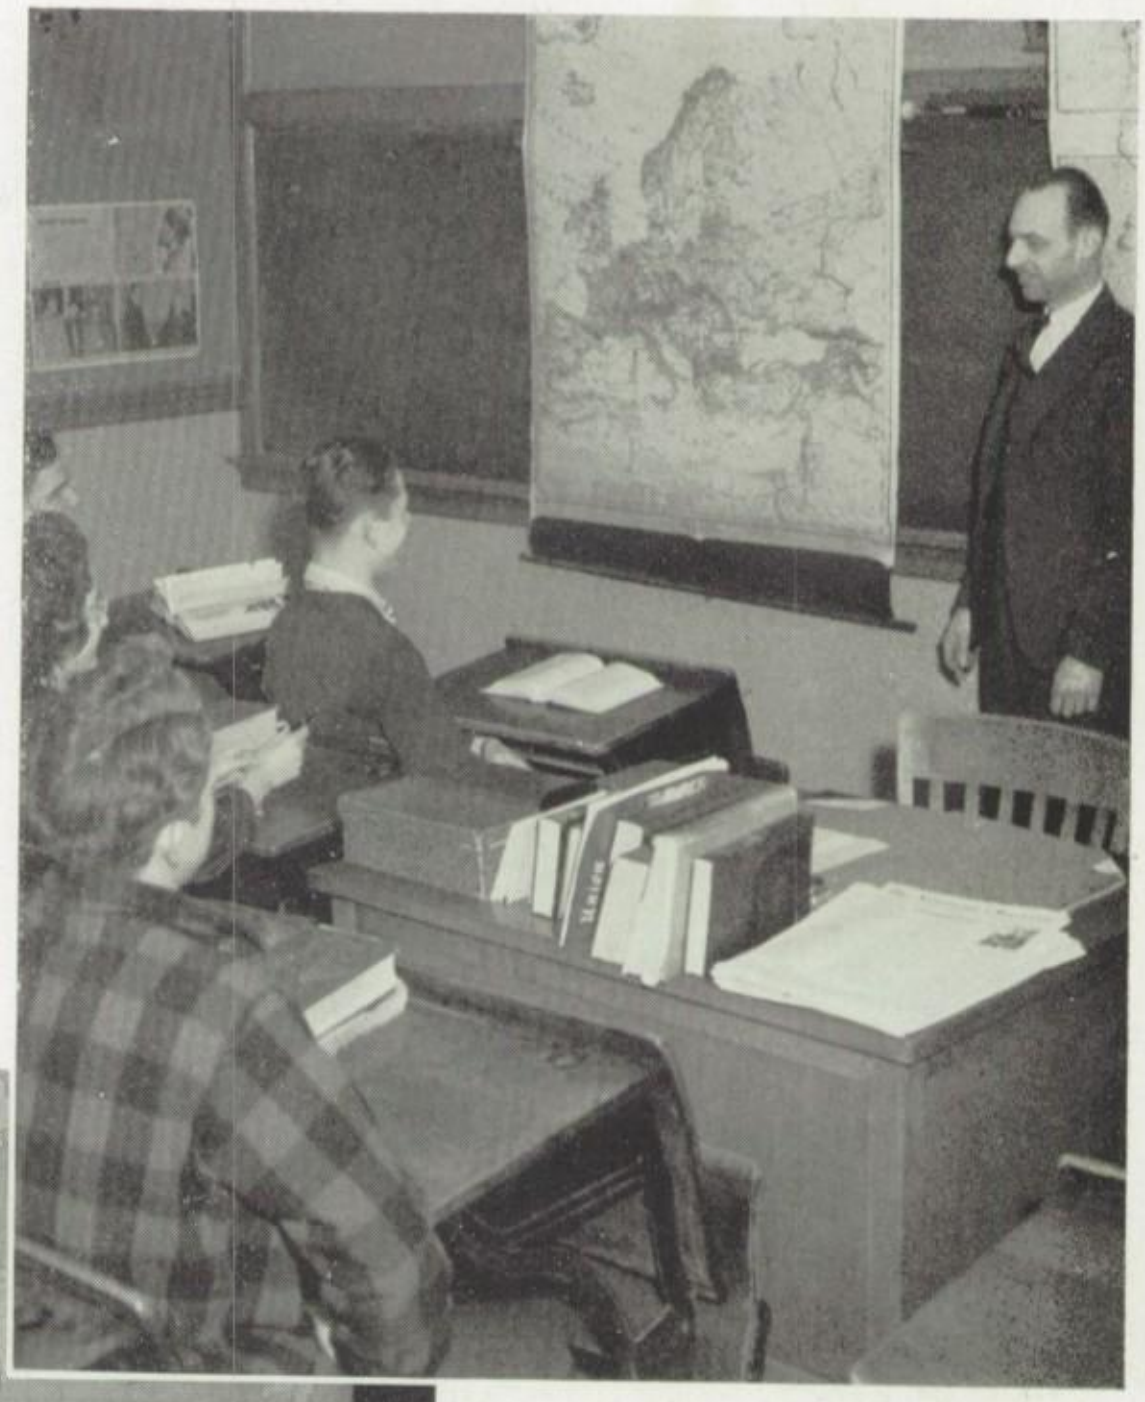
Miss Dorothy Snow, keeper of a Senior home-room and editorial adviser of the CHATTER and HOUR GLASS, is one of the best-liked teachers in Fairport. She likes cooperative people who know how to work. Her favorite color is blue, she likes daffodils, fine music, especially arrangements for the violin. Fritz Kreisler, tennis, and Tschaikowsky's aria; are her favorites. She enjoys writing and has written several successful plays and poems.

Eighteen years ago, Mr. Andrew C. Lynch came to Fairport High School in the role of an English teacher. Eleven years ago he advanced to the position of principal. Despite the heavy duties connected with that position, he has nevertheless retained an English Three class. Everyone who has taken Mr. Lynch's course in English Three feels that he has learned, not only the usual English Three subject matter, but in addition, much philosophy valuable in later life.

Miss Evelyn Joyce guides the Freshmen and Sophomores through their first two years of English. She likes to read, THE VALLEY OF DECISION being one of her favorites. She prefers simple clothes, the color blue, the music of Romberg, coconut cake, and roses. Miss Joyce's pet peeve is girls who comb their hair during classes. She has been competently directing the Senior Play for many years. This year's production of MOONLIGHT FOR HERBERT testifies to her effort, patience and understanding of dramatics.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

World Culture



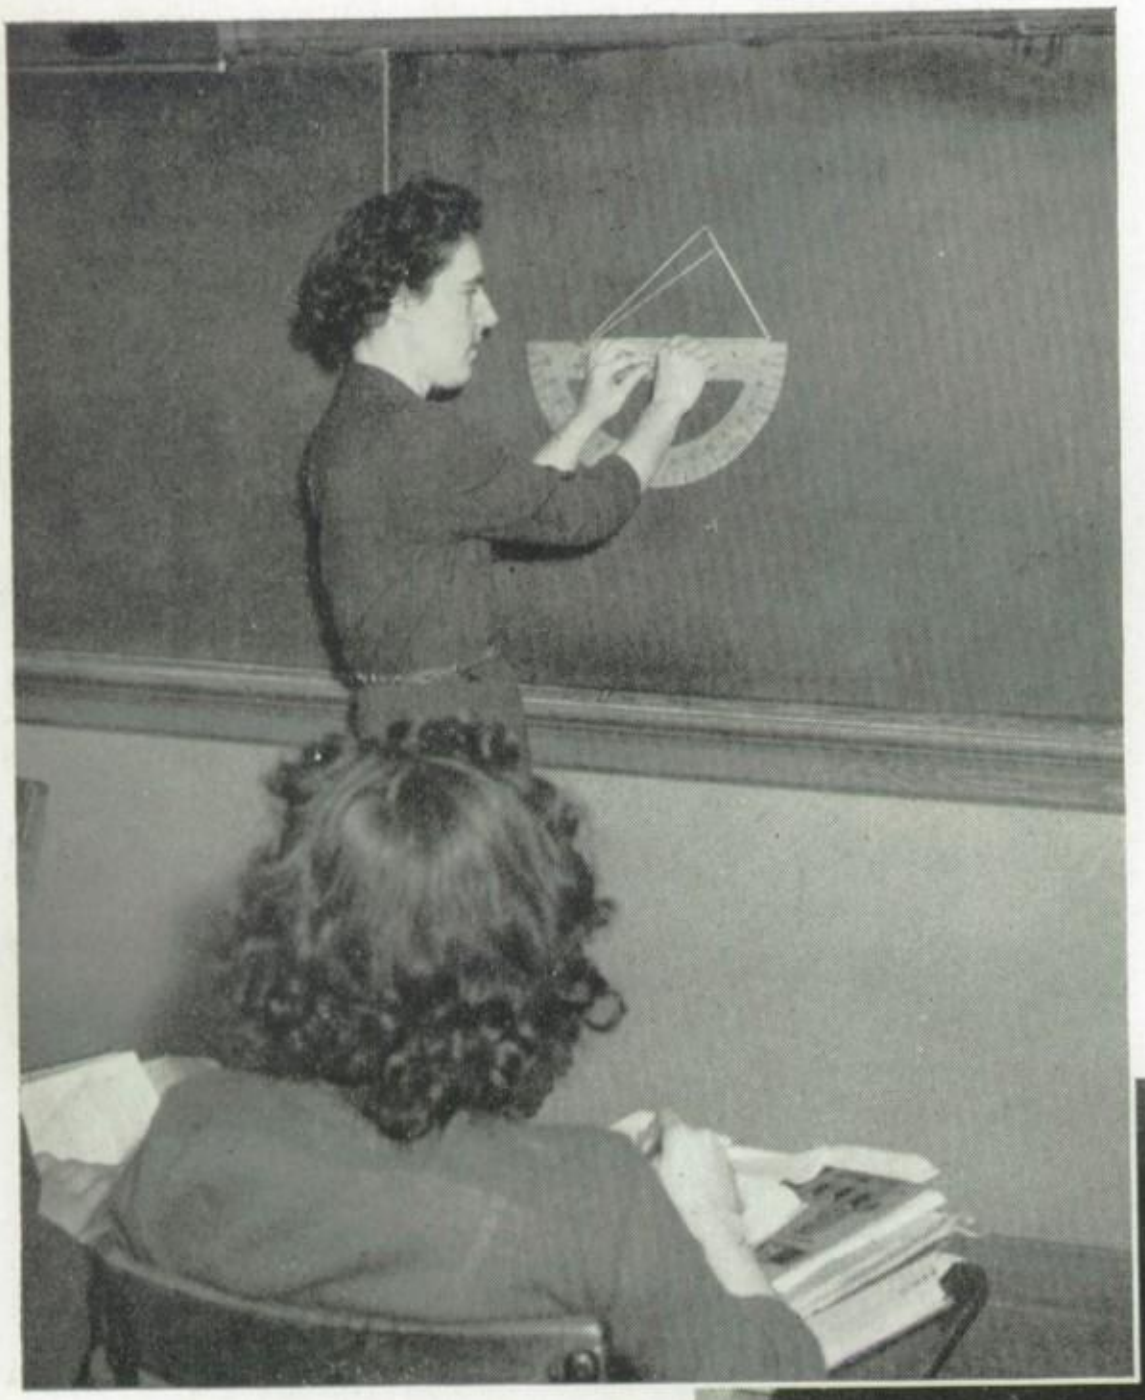
MR. WARNER

Mr. Leon Warner prefers blondes. His favorite color is blue. His favorite musician is Spike Jones; for variety his favorite musical selection is "The Lord's Prayer". He hunts for sport and shoots descendants of his favorite actor, Donald Duck. He says "Holy Moses" when eating steak and mushrooms. He likes to putter around the house and hates to answer these questions. He likes tailored clothes and historical novels, and his favorite way of expressing himself, he says, is just to be sweet and gentle. Eating is the habit he would like to get rid of.

MRS. ROUGHT

A good-natured, friendly person, well-liked; so perhaps that is why we are fond of Mrs. Helen Rought. Cooperative people are favored by her, as are ice cream and chocolate cake. She's fond of red roses and the semi-classics, with selections by Jerome Kern and Gershwin at the head. She has many hobbies, among them are sports, gardening, and reading good books. She has numerous ways of telling her emotions, but facial expression comes naturally to her. Her pet peeve concerns people who talk in movies; and she likes very much to sink a hole-in-one on the golf course. A very easy - to - get - acquainted - with person is Mrs. Rought.

We Widen



MISS HODGE

A sports enthusiast, and not bad, at that! She's a wonderful math teacher, and her original problems are the talk of her classes. She cannot stomach lamb of any kind, color, or creed, but she does like turkey with all the trimmings. Her favorite book is THE BOLINVARS, a novel about Russia. Debussy's music is always welcome, especially Clair de Lune. Always, bowling and bicycling are first with her, and flowers are favorite with her, too. A great all-around person, a wonderful friend and a good adviser is Miss Helen Hodge, the math genius of

MRS. O'DELL

The mysteries of why only one part of iron will combine with two of chlorine are all unveiled by Mrs. O'Dell, Fairport High's science teacher. Fond of cooking, she specializes in lemon chiffon pie. She likes blue, casual clothes, good books, and Clark Gable. Mrs. O'Dell enjoys music, but does not appreciate "the kind they murder in the music room during lessons." Her special fear is that of being too cross and strict. In the "lab" Mrs. O'Dell is the symbol of efficiency, industry and patience.

Our Horizons

MISS STOLT

Miss Florence Stolt, French teacher in Fairport High, is also a patron of the arts. She likes Verdi's immortal music, the opera and historical novels. Bette Davis, Walter Pidgeon and badminton appeal to her. People who are pleasant and have a good sense of humor fascinate her. Her favorite color is black. She dislikes radishes, and thinks she sleeps too much. The French students are fond of saying that "You can't flunk French with Miss Stolt teaching it."

MISS MONK

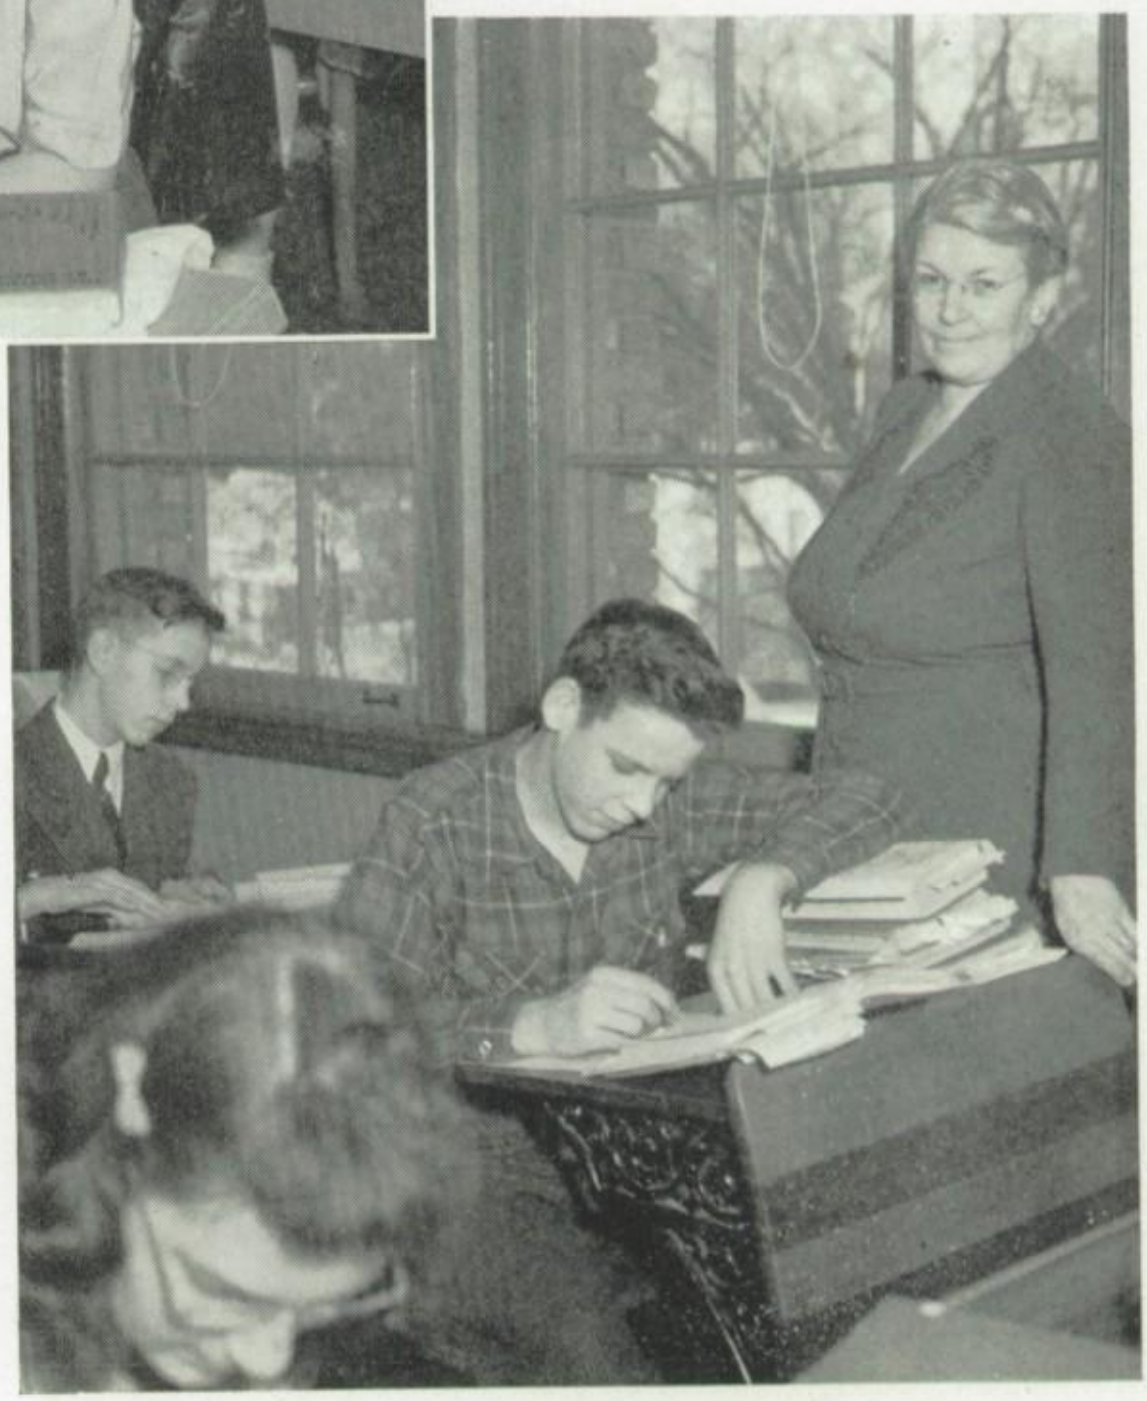
Latin may be a dead language but to Fairport High it is a very much alive, with Miss Elsie Monk teaching it. This tall blonde teacher is fond of color blue, of Sammy Kaye, Greer Garson and Ingrid Bergman. She likes to play tennis or watch a good football game. Miss Monk is fond of "Stardust", and tailored clothes, but women's hats "drive her crazy", and she seldom wears them. Bridge or chocolate cake are also "lots of Fun". Miss Monk has already shown her ability to make Latin interesting during her one year here.

LANGUAGES

We Prepare to

MR. SCHWORM

Mr. Kenneth Schworm likes people with brains and good looks who wear blue and can't chew gum. His favorite flower is the nasturtium, and he likes badminton and mystery stories. His hobby is math figures. As a musician, Wayne King is his favorite and for acting he likes Spencer Tracy and Greer Garson.



MRS. RYON

Mrs. Gertrude Ryon likes Finlandia, for a musical selection, tailored suits, and sweet peas. Reading is her hobby and she reads historical novels and biographies, but her favorite way of expressing herself is by writing. She likes a good T-bone steak. She doesn't like noise and confusion and wishes she could get rid of the habit of being too critical.

Earn a Living

MISS RUMSEY

The homemaking rooms are sparkling brightly under the supervision of Miss Charlotte Rumsey. As a Cooking expert, she claims devil's food cake as her favorite dish. Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue and Clark Gable never grow tiresome to her. She likes the color "rose", gay people, and horseback riding. Her pet expression is "darn", and she's trying to stop saying "uh" between sentences. A sewing enthusiast, Miss Rumsey makes most of her own clothes. Her expressive eyebrows quirk upwards when she is surprised. The homemaking rooms have assumed a special charm under her guidance.

MR. YONKERS

Our sharp specialist, Mr. Milton Yonkers, has a secret ambition no one has ever known about. He would like to wake up one Monday morning and not have to come to school. He is fond of roast beef, talisman roses, Gershwin, Ingrid Bergman, and Gary Cooper simply "sends" him. Strauss waltzes and quiet music entrance him, with Joyce Kilmer's "Trees" at the head of the column. His pet manner of expression is a scowl and he dotes on hunting and fishing and energeric people. He used to like "Black Beauty" but now prefers "Tin and Tin Fish", a novel about deep-sea fishing off the Florida Coast. A very good teacher and an all-around friend is Mr. Milton Yonkers.

We Enrich

MR. VANCE

Mr. Carroll Vance thinks girls are his favorite type of person. He likes brown, Marie Dressler and George Arliss, boating, raisin pie, sport clothes, detective stories and pansies. He doesn't like gum and wishes he didn't put his hands in his pockets. His hobbies are doing crossword puzzles and collecting American coins.

MISS WATSON

Miss Genevieve Watson, one of the music instructors at Fairport, is fond of saying "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." Her favorite colors are sapphire blue and she dotes on white with gold. During the summer she enjoys "limbering up" with swimming and tennis. She is fondest of apple pie a la mode. Miss Watson's hobbies are playing bridge and reading philosophical or psychological literature. To her, Rachmanioff's symphonies and INTERMEZZO represent an afternoon's ecstasy. A piano satisfies her love for music.

Mind and Soul

MISS FORTMILLER

Miss Margaret Fortmiller likes blue and violets. Her favorite actor is Maurice Evans and favorite actress, Irene Dunne. She does not like hypocrites and saying "O. K." Her favorite sport is basketball and her hobbies are music and knitting. She likes suits.

MRS. STREET

Our Art Department has advanced greatly in the past few years, due to Mrs. Esda Streets' never-ending effort. English literature interests her greatly. She has good-naturedly taken a lot of kidding about her avid interest in purple. It remains her favorite color! She thinks she worries too much about herself and her students. Like most teachers she is irritated by gum-chewers. English teacups and saucers fascinate her, as does the music of Romberg. She enjoys walking and likes cookies after a long walk in the country. Every department in the school, at sometime or other, seeks favors from the Art Department and is graciously satisfied.

We Find Fun in

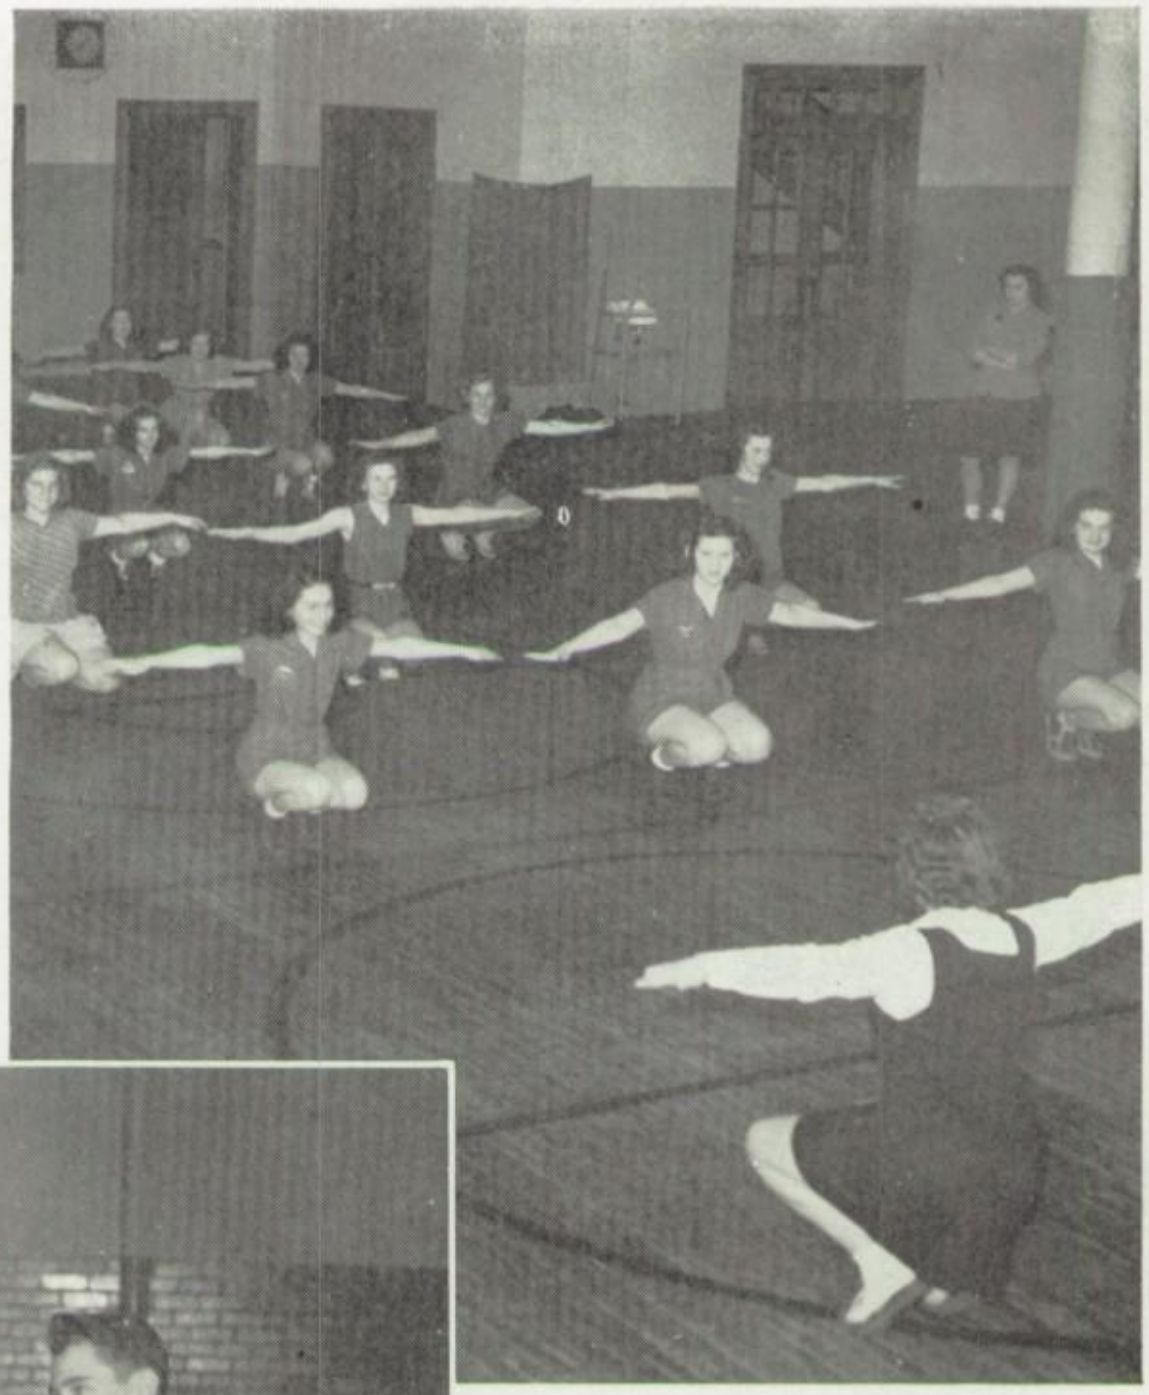
MRS. SANFORD

Mrs. Iva Mae Sanford, Fairport's school nurse, is a real all-around person and a good sport. Her favorite people have a good sense of humor, but are genuinely sincere. She likes pie and Alan Ladd, and sacred music occupies a very special place in her heart. Shubert's AVE MARIA and Lloyd Douglas' THE ROBE are also special as are sweet peas and collecting antiques. Picnicking and basketball are favorites with her and nothing annoys her more than someone talking out of turn. Her hands are her means of expressing her feelings, which are always sincere.

MISS LA IUPPA

A very versatile person is our dental hygiene teacher, Miss Frances La Iuppa. She likes all kinds of people, and all kinds of fruits and all kinds of orchids. Bach and Schubert are her favorite composers, while grand opera and symphony concerts are also "in the groove". However, syncopation is none the less groovey with her. She likes modern literature, especially LEAVE HER TO HEAVEN. Dancing, sports, and any kind of a game fascinates her, and she shows her fascination by her facial expressions. Her pet peeve is people who talk in movies, and her favorite sports are swimming and basketball.

Health and Relaxation



MISS DONK

Miss Ruth Donk is one of Fairport's energetic physical education instructors. Her favorite color is yellow, and she considers her worst habit is saying "my word" or "golly". A questionnaire is her pet aversion, while vegetable soup (the kind that comes in a can) is her pet diversion. During her leisure she enjoys knitting, tennis and swimming. Chopin's music and The White Tower completely captivate her. Poetry and good fiction are special forms of amusements, and tailored clothes and Sammy Kaye rank way up with her. At rare intervals she can be persuaded to give a performance of her celebrated ballet.

MR. BRENNAN

Mr. Don Brennan likes optimists, blue, and Pinnochio. His favorite musician is Eddy Duchin and musical selection is Navajo Trail. Maureen O'Hara is his favorite actress. He likes basketball, football — and steak. His favorite expression is "What's the idea?" His special way of expressing himself blankety-blank-blank-blank is used when he is using his pet peeve, his car. That is probably why he is tardy. Being tardy is a habit he wishes he could get over. Or maybe it's because he reads his favorite literature too long, comic books and funny papers. He also likes casual clothes. (Coach has a host of friends in F.H.S.)

TRIBUTE TO SENIOR ADVISORS

For their sparkling sense of humor, for their patient efforts in our behalf, and for their friendly understanding, we, the Class of 1946, express our appreciation and gratitude to our class advisers, Miss Charlotte Rumsey and Mr. Leon Warner.

SENIOR HISTORY

Early in September, the newly-formed Senior Class trooped into Room 16 for its first formal meeting. Officers were elected as follows: Ken Nemitz was chosen president; Jimmy Schrader stood by to take over, just in case; Betty Hudson was chosen to keep the minutes; and Gert Miller filed the finances. Senior pictures were taken the third week of school, but all cameras remained intact.

The Senior Ball, on December 22, was as always an event to be remembered. Several money-making campaigns followed. Christmas cards had been sold by the class earlier for a neat profit. In March, two rummage sales were held by the Seniors, with excellent results plus a load of fun. The Senior play netted more than $200. When the Hour Glass went to press, the class was making plans for a trip to Crystal Beach.

SENIOR STUDENT PATROL

Hall traffic and student conduct between classes are in the hands of the Student Patrol. Thirty hours a year in the line of duty are spent by each of the eighteen ever-watchful members of the Student Patrol. Two minutes before the bell rings, they leave their classrooms and assume their posts in the corridors and on the stairways.

It is their duty to keep order in the halls by admonishing spirited students who may feel the urge to whistle, sing, run, or skip stairs in their itinerary between classes. The S. P. S. must keep order in the halls at all times, especially before assemblies.

Every other week, the Seniors are relieved of duty by the Junior Student Patrol. The Juniors who served this year will compose next year's Student Patrol. Patrol membership is an honorary appointment. Advisers are Miss Fortmiller and Mr. Warner.

SENIOR PLAY CAST

ON FLOOR—M. Maloney, G. Miiller, C. LaRosa, R. Johnson, H. Voigt, P. Holmes, H. Spaulding, M. Brickle, W. Grabb, Miss Joyce, Adviser, B. George.

SENIOR PLAY

The curtain rose promptly at 8 o'clock on April 4 at the High School Auditorium, when the Senior class presented the three-act comedy, "Moonlight for Herbert." The clever, entertaining, youthful play was enthusiastically received.

Billy Grabb played the part of Herbert Rains, and Marian Brickle played opposite him. Helen Voigt and Robert Johnson as Herbert's long suffering parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Rains turned in excellent performances as did Harold Spaulding as Vincent, who was involved in the latter's troubles. Paul Holmes, as Vincent's professor-father, gave an original portrayal. Other members included: Gertrude Miiller as a heckling little sister; Betty George as Miss Hepplewhite, the music teacher; Henry Montagliano as Mr. Heidler; Mary Maloney as Mrs. Ellington Lewis; Dan Woolston as Mr. Tierney, a rival contractor; Catherine LaRosa as the enterprising young business woman, Julia Arnold; Lois Marlett as Mrs. Tracy, the belligerent housewife.

Aside from the fame gained as prospective Hollywood material, the Seniors swelled their treasury by $200.00.

SENIOR BALL

To the theme of White Christmas the annual Senior Ball was held on December 21 in the gym.

In the dimly lighted gym, around the gaily decorated Christmas tree, the couples, young and old, danced to the music of Jimmy Dennis and his orchestra.

The theme of White Christmas was carried out with branches of evergreen, a red sleigh, and the colors red, white, and green. The cool green punch was very refreshing.

The culmination of the evening was the crowning by Mr. Coffee of Betty Hudson as Queen and Jimmy Schrader as King. They had been selected by a vote of the entire student body.

JUNIOR CLASS

Upper Classmen is indeed a thrilling title for the students that two short years ago thought they would never become accustomed to the mannerisms of F. H. S.

The class elected officers early in the year and selected Neil Seaman, Warren Lewis, Pat Fisk and Norma Zimmer to guide them, with Miss Stolt and Mr. Brennan as advisors.

Norma Zimmer and her CHATTER Staff have succeeded in improving the pet project of the Junior Class.

On November 20, 1945, had its first Stunt Night since the war. First prize went to the Junior Class, who presented a review of songs from the early 20th Century, with a bevy of girls in formal dress, and a novel male quartet. Clint Emery made a hit as the lamp-lighter, and Phil Dirkx immortalized himself with the portrayal of the drunken father of Betty Bramer, one of the lollipop-brigade.

Bill Dancy, Gordon Schrader and Bud O'Dell were on hand to represent their class in football. In basketball Neil Seaman, Don Jordan and Clint Emery contributed to the growing success of the team.

Several of the class have had the opportunity to represent F. H. S. on the radio, over "Hi News" and "Junior Town Meeting".

The English III classes presented "Voices from the Purple Shadows" for their annual Christmas Play.

The Juniors saw their year's efforts culminated in sweet music and soft lights that accompanied their Junior Prom in June.

Gone was the bewildered look of Freshmen days as the Sophomores settled into the routine of work and play in F. H. S. Early in the fall the class organized, electing David Beato, president; Barbara Hull, vice-president; Mary Shults, secretary, and Dick Lieb, treasurer. Mrs. Rought and Mr. Yonkers were chosen as advisers.

Many of the Sophs have shown great promise, not only in sports but scholastically too. Dave Beato, Earl Whipple and Gene Galante led in the athletic field while Jack Brizee, Dick Lieb, Shirley Aldridge, Emmett Pyous and Virginia Smith led the class in scholastics.

The class also presented a rather novel skit for Stunt Night entitled, "Go West, Young Man" and helped very willingly in the Infantile Paralysis and Red Cross Drives. Yes, no doubt about it; the class of '48 has proved itself more than capable of taking on the responsibilities of upper classmen.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Bewildered is the word usually applied to Freshmen, but most of them had little trouble adjusting themselves to high school life this year.

Early in the year Julius Battaglini was elected president of the class; Bud DeWolff, vice-president; Jeanette King, secretary; and Edward Schubert, treasurer. Miss Joyce and Mr. Lynch were chosen as advisers.

Albert Reggi, Alfred Pescini, and Dominic Menaguale brought glory to the Freshman Class in football. The basketball season found Basil Savard, Carl Vogel, Dominic Menaguale, Edward Schubert, Dick Peck, Julius Battaglini, and Francis Myers on the freshman squad.

The Freshman Stunt, due to David Bulman's ingenuity, was successful under the direction of Mrs. Rought and Miss Rumsey.

ALPHA BETA PHI

"What club sports those flashy red, white and blue jackets?" Why the Alpha Beta Phi of course. Its activities were numerous during the year, varying from selling delicious ice cream suckers to offering Team ribbons for games. The Frat's adviser, Mr. Yonkers, again guided the club through another prosperous year with the help of Presidents Beato and Grabb. Vice-presidents, Johnson and Nemitz, Secretaries Winagle and Lieb, Treasurers Grabb and Johnson and Sergeants-at-Arms Battaglini and Stolt. The Phi has long been one of the envied clubs of Fairport, and its members are proud of its record and traditions.

BLOCK F CLUB

A long-standing tradition of Fairport High School is the Block F Club. Each of its members attired in his red and blue sweater exemplifies good-fellowship.

Their activities this year have included the furnishing of loyal football fans with sustenance at home games. In addition, they sold booster buttons during football season.

Undoubtedly much of the club's success during the year was due to the efficient leadership of the officers, who were Gordon Schrader, president; Neal Seaman, vice-president; Bud O'Dell, secretary; and Bob Staff, treasurer. The advisor, Mr. Lynch, guided the club through a highly successful year.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

"See that girl in the blue sweater with the double C on the front? She's a member of the Cos." The Cosmopolitan Club, organized many years ago, stands for a good sportsmanship and sisterhood. It is composed of all types of girls, who all work and play together in an effort to make all equal.

The president is Helen Voigt who tries, sometimes in vain, to bring the meeting to order, while Vice-president Lillian Fisk stands ready to take over when Helen isn't around. Secretary Lucy Malucci keeps the minutes on file, while Bette Earl writes the checks and collects the dues.

The traditional tea for the faculty is held sometime in May. At the Bake Food Sale held during the winter, the club netted about $40.00.

FIRST ROW—D. Graves, M. Peck, M. Andrews, N. Wochner, J. Briggs. SECOND ROW—Mrs. Street, Adviser, S. Costello, B. Hudson, M. Matz, K. Spence, M. Brizee. THIRD ROW—P. Phillips, D. McIntosh, L. Marlett, B. George, P. Dodge, V. Steubing, M. Brickle, N. Grabb, B. Hull.

SIGMA CHI DELTA

Excitement ran wild when President Hudson followed by the other members came into Room 14 with the purple and white pledge ribbons. For the girls it was a day of great joy. They didn't knew whether to laugh or cry. They heard the order: "Follow us." "Take that ribbon and those bobby pins out of your hair." "Don't laugh." And then they all went on to the next home room.

The Sigma Chi Delta conducted a hay ride, which ended rather disastrously but everyone had a good time. They held their annual "Spring Dance" and their traditional house-party in June.

They meet every other Tuesday night at the homes of the members. The president is Betty Hudson, vice-president, Betty George; treasurer, Shirley Costello; secretary, Lois Marlett and scribe, Marian Brickle.

These girls have all tried hard to live up to the Sorority's ideals of friendship, sportsmanship, and school loyalty. This has been one of the Sorority's most successful years.

The girls are very grateful to Mrs. Street, their adviser, for her guidance and cheerful advice.

FIRST ROW—J. Nemitz, G. Miiller, M. Willie, M. Marvin, M. Ferris. SECOND ROW—Miss Joyce, Adviser, L. Masciangelo, J. Hembrock, P. Celehar, V. DeBuck, L. Sperino, D. Filardo. THIRD ROW—R. Webb, A. Pappert, A. Lewis, A. Williams, E. Manchester, N. Kramer.

THETA CHI UPSILON

Twenty girls in green and white; twenty girls who put their sisterhood before everything; twenty girls who recently changed the name of their sorority from SXS to Theta Chi Upsilon. They have purchased deep green coat sweaters with a startlingly white emblem. Theta Chi Upsilon has held many baked food sales and "T Dances", while their annual St. Patrick's Day Frolic as usual occupied the spotlight. Gert Muller, as president, weilded the gavel, while Jean Hembrock, Jean Nemitz, and Margaret Ferris filled the other offices. Theta Chi Upsilon has really added something to our roster of school organizations.

FIRST ROW—Mrs. Rought, Adviser, C. Hospers, M. Maloney, S. Aldridge, D. McIntosh. SECOND ROW—B. Hudson, H. Voigt, B. Earl, J. Taber, H. Faust, G. Pennise, P. Rice, K. Spence. THIRD ROW—J. Burns, C. O'Dell, Wa. Lewis, J. Brizee, B. Grabb, P. Dirkx, L. Marlett.

DRAMATIC CLUB

"Everything was just perfect!" "No cne forgot his lines either." The Dramatic Club members gather excitedly together after putting on a one-act comedy for Assembly.

The twenty-two members, with adviser Mrs. Rought, have their meeting every two weeks in the auditorium. They discuss plays and study directing and actors. During the year they attend at least one professional play and put on a program in school.

President Helen Voigt or Vice-President Betty Hudson directs the meetings. Secretary Grace Pennise keeps the minutes and Treasurer Phil Dirkx juggles the figures.

SEATED—M. Battaglini, Miss Stolt, Adviser, G. Pennise, R. Webb, H. Ashby, L. La Pietra, J. Brizee.

FRENCH CLUB

This year proved to be a most successful one for the French Club. With Grace Pennise as president, Harold Ashby as vice-president, Elizabeth LaPietra as secretary and Roxana Webb as treasurer, the meetings, conducted solely in French, ran smoothly and efficiently. During the course of the year, the club produced several skits, including a Moliere Comedy, presented in Assembly. One important decision was the revival of the custom of having pins. The club is not only efficient but hospitable as well, for it welcomes visitors to its meetings. Yes, the French Club, ably advised by Miss Stolt is an organization of which Fairport High School can well be proud.

LIBRARY STAFF

Much of the credit for the efficient operation of the Fairport High School Library is given to that corps of girls known as the Library Staff. These seniors volunteer their services for duty, one period a week. Their tasks include all the non-technical jobs about the library such as shelving books, arranging the card catalog and repairing books.

The Staff is under the guidance of Miss Fortmiller whose praise of the girls is limitless. There is no doubt that the bright cheery and businesslike aspect of our library is due, in a great part, to Miss Fortmiller's Library Staff.

ART CLUB

The Art Club was organized early in the fall by students interested in furthering their artistic knowledge. Shirley Aldridge was elected president while Jack Brizee, Carlton De Wolfe and Elaine Cook were chosen as vice-president, treasurer and secretary respectively.

These students have chosen as their aim a keener appreciation of art in everyday living. In doing this they will acquire a taste in the selection of clothes, knowledge in the correct arrangement of homes, and a better understanding of the use of color. During the year the members have shown creative ability by arranging colorful and artistic displays on the bulletin boards and in the show case.

On one occasion several of the group, with Mrs. Street, their adviser, took a trip to Rochester to visit the Memorial Art Gallery and the Scholastic Awards Exhibit of High School Art at Sibley, Lindsay and Curr Company.

RADIO CLUB

This year students of FHS have been fortunate in receiving radio experience. WHEC has held two outstanding programs of keen interest to high school pupils.

One of these is the Hi-News program sponsored by McCurdy & Company. This year the following schedule was observed:

October—N. Zimmer—School News
November—W. Grabb, H. Spaulding—"A Model Railroad Enthusiast"—Interview
January—N. Zimmer, P. Dodge—School News
February—W. Lewis, H. Gardner—"Potter Memorial Meets Youth Needs"—Interview
March—G. Pennise, L. Phillips—School News

The other program was Junior Town Meeting of the Air sponsored by F. B. Forman & Co. FHS pupils appeared on the schedule as follows:

W. Grabb—"What Should Our Policy Be Towards Argentina?"
January—P. Dodge—"Are Comics Harmful?"
February 24—W. Lewis—"Juvenile Delinquency"
March 17—R. Johnson—"Do History Books Create War?"

This year marked a beginning for radio activity in FHS through the courtesy of Station WHEC of Rochester, New York.

Pat Dodge to be on the Air

Patricia Dodge, Fairport High Jun- ior, will be heard over station WHEC on Sunday, November 18, on the Jun- ior Town Meeting of the Air at 2:30 p. m. This program is devoted weekly to four high school students from different schools, who discuss some topic, interesting to all young people. The students take the two sides of the question, and the two take the negative side. After each has a chance to express his ideas, the studio audience is allowed to address ques- tions to the debaters.

The three other schools which will be represented on this program be- sides Fairport, are Aquinas, Ironde- quoit, and Jefferson High. The sub- ject will be "Are Comics Harmful?" Everyone be sure to listen in.

Class President Chosen Senior of the Week

Kenny Nenitz rightfully deserves the title of "Senior of the Week" as one of the most outstanding personal- ities of the Senior Class. His class- mates chose him as President because of his outstanding ability of leader- ship and his friendly attitude towards everyone.

An ambitious person, Ken spent most of his summer vacation working at the American Can Company, and now back in school he is working doubly hard to obtain good marks. Ken is also an enthusiastic member of the Alpha Beta Phi Fraternity and is very popular with boys and girls alike.

"Chatter Goes to Press Conference

On Saturday, November 17th, the members of the editorial staff were guests at the Powers Hotel. At the Hotel, the Rochester Times-Union and the Democrat and Chronicle sponsored a work clinic. This clinic was for all school papers in five counties. While half of the group listened to panel discussions, the other half toured the Times-Union plant. The Fairport editorial staff toured the plant in the morning. Archie Clark headed the tour. At eleven-thirty, everyone returned to the Hotel. The conference members were guests of the two newspapers at a turkey dinner.

In the afternoon the staff had panel discussions. The first speaker was James Ryder, from the Times-Union. His speech was "How to Write Copy."

Initiations Sweep Fairport High School

FRATERNITIES INFORMAL INITIATIONS TAKE PLACE

On Tuesday, October 16, the Alpha Beta Phi and the Block F Clubs held their informal initiations.

The Block F pledges had to don care man clothes and carry a club and a baby doll, and wear burned cork on their faces.

The Alpha Beta Phi on the other hand, had their pledges dress as young debutantes. They wore skirts, sweaters, earrings, powdered wigs and kerchiefs, and they carried purses. The "sirs" put rouge and perfume on them to make them look more like girls.

At night the pledges were all taken to different places including Knapp's Bridge, Nine-Mile Point Rd., Turk Hill Rd., Hannans Corners and some cemeteries.

On Wednesday the pledges were recognized as full members of the Clubs and had learned just what pledges of other years have had to go through.

WHAM Reporter Visits F. H. S.

Thursday, October 24, Fairport High School was happy to play host to Al Sisson, the friendly WHAM "Main-streeter."

Mr. Al Sisson arrived in the morn- ing just in time to give an interesting and educational talk on "Pecking around the Mike" to the fourth period English classes. He told of the advantages of radio for the listen- ing public over all other forms of entertainment. He discussed with a feelings that most commer- cials have made our programs the greatest in the world.

At war in 1944, our citizens went to the polls and cast a vote for the leader of their choice. Where else in the world could this have been done? Young people continued their studies and listened alike to the praise and the criticism given our govern- ment.

People came and went as they pleased. There were no "Gestapo" to bar them from church, theaters or radio programs of their choice. When peace came, the American people had more left out of the shambles than anyone else. No bombs had fallen on them; no cities had been destroyed; there were no con- centration camps to be emptied. Now our boys are coming home to stay. Our prisoners of war are free. Everyone has attained freedom from better land. Here in America they have a chance to get ahead and the promise of a good job. Soon they will have new cars, and all the ad- vantages of the progress made by science during the war. Yes, our boys are coming home to the better world they fought for and the world their buddies died for. They know they are returning to homes in the greatest land of all — America.

Juniors Win!!!

The members of the Junior Class are happy to announce that they were the lucky winners of Stunt Night, which was helped by the beautiful scenery, and costumes worn by the cast. The skit was a take-off on the barber shop quartet, which sang a few songs from the good old days, Bill Dancy, who sang "A Bicycle Built for Two" and tap-danced, and Phil Dirks for his impersonation of a broadcasting system the greatest in the world. The chorus sang exceptionally well also, and the audience gave the drunk. The Seniors tied for third place with "Go West Young Man" and "Romeo and Juliet" and the Soph- omores and Freshmen tied for fourth and "The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe."

The Juniors wish to thank their advisers, Miss Hodge and Miss Monk, for their helpful assistance.

All-in-all, Stunt Night turned out very successfully.

The band, twirlers, and Clint Emery helped fill in between the acts. Danc- ing and refreshments followed in the gym.

Fairport Enjoyed a Peaceful Thanksgiving

Students List Own Ideas of Holiday

In this privileged land this year our people have found more and more things to be thankful for. The Junior and Senior English classes of F.H.S. took time out last week to count their blessings. The score added up some- thing like this:

Peace has returned to the world. Through our years of war the Amer- ican public has been spared bombed homes, starvation, and persecution. On the contrary, we at home have enjoyed a better standard of living, better medical care and more priv- ileges than any other people in the world.

At war in 1944, our citizens went to the polls and cast a vote for the leader of their choice. Where else in the world could this have been done? Young people continued their studies and listened alike to the praise and the criticism given our govern- ment.

Hour Glass Staff Chosen

This week the editors for the Hour Glass have been appointed. All seniors aspire to a place on the staff, for offices are considered high honors. These appointments are made during their absence. As they are considered high honors. These appointments are made.

Bob Johnson has been named Editor-in-chief. Bob's literary ability originally on last year's Chatter staff. Bill Grabb will head the business staff as business manager. Bill's executive ability is apparent through his appointment as president of the Student Association.

Peggy Brizee, an art student for three years, has been named art editor. With such an able staff the Hour Glass should be very successful.

Seniors Hold Elections Nemitz Leads Class

On September 10, the Senior Class of '46 held their first meeting of the year. The election of new officers was conducted and the outcome was as follows: Kenneth Nemitz, pres- ident; Jim Schrader, vice-president; Betty Hudson, secretary; and Gertrude Miller, treasurer.

FHS Teachers Rate Student Body Higher Than Average

The "Chatter" Staff has con- ducted a poll among the teachers of FHS to determine habits and at- attitudes, good and bad. Teachers were asked to mark a long list of qualities according to the follow- ing key:

1, extremely good; 2, moderately good; 3, average; 4, moderately bad; 5, extremely bad.

A summary of teacher voting follows. This summary represents the carefully-weighed opinions of twenty teachers:

School Spirit, 2; Loyalty, 2; Sportsmanship, 1; Courtesy to Visiting Teams, 2; Courtesy to Visiting Teachers, 1; Courtesy to Visiting Speakers, 2; Courtesy to Helpful Causes, 2; Response to Helpful- ness, 2; Friendliness, 1; Obed- ience, 2; Co-operation, 2; Trust- worthiness, 2; Dependability, 3; Cleanliness, 2; Taking Suggestions, 2; Noise in Halls, 2; Pupil Forget- fulness, 3; Littered Floors, 2; Gum Chewing, 4; Poor Posture, 2; Grooming, 2; Poor Desks, 3; Littered Floors, 2; Marking on Desks, 3; Chisel- ing, 2; Misuse of Books, 3; Vulgarity of Paper, 4; Vulgarity, 3; Whistling in Corridors, 3; Interruptions, 3; Speech, 2; Class Interruptions, 2; Combing Hair in Class, 4; Copying of Homework, 3; Cheating, 2

From this study a few conclu- sions may be drawn:

1. Students need to curb the two habits of chewing gum in class and borrowing paper from fellow students.

2. Students need to devote more of the time to the preparation of home- work.

3. Students are to be commended for their courtesy and friendliness.

4. The student body is to be complimented upon receiving an average of 2, or better than 2, upon an estimate of their natural surroundings.

"Moonlight" To be Presented

The Seniors this year will pre- sent "Moonlight for Herbert", a three act comedy. The cast is as follows:

Beverly, Gertrude Miller, Mar- garet Rains, Helen Voigt; Herb- ert, Betty George; Mrs. Elting, Mary Maloney; Vivian, Harold Spaulding Jr., Harold Spaulding Sr., Farnsworth, Jr., Robert Faust; Jean, Herbert, William Johnson; Mr. Rains, Helen Faust; Jean, Arnold, Marion Brickle; Grabb; Spaulding Sr., Paul Holmes; Tracy, Catherine LaRosa; Mr. Farr, Catherine Tierney have not been chosen.

The plot is not to be announced. The Seniors will be a big surprise.

Students "Enjoy" Heavy Snowfall

"No school Thursday!" "No school Friday, oh boy!" These unexpected sentences echoed through the halls of F.H.S. when students were informed that they had a great holiday ahead of them. Some agreed that the drifts of snow (Oh, the walks, the trouble that!!! All in all, enjoyed.

Fairport Gains Triumphant Victory

Irondequoit Trounced 12-7

Yes—no longch can the fighting warriors of F. H. S. be called the "Scoreless Wonders." At last, through spirit and cooperation, our team has gained a great boost in morale by downing the hapless Irondequoit, 12-7. Irondequoit's ground power caught our team off-guard and they rolled to a touchdown in the first quarter. However, the Fairport Troop soon recovered and under the skillful leadership of Captain Cheabro outplayed and out- scored the "Bayside Indians."

They drove 59 yards for their first touchdown. Al Coco went through the line, thus becoming the hero of the crowd and team. Despite the fact that Brothers' attempt for the extra point was blocked the team had tasted the fruits of victory, and it was that for which this spirited team fought.

In the third quter they started a rally once more. Neil Seaman snared a 30 yard pass amidst a host of Indian interceptors. From there they drove to the 7 yard line where they were halted momentarily until Gord Schrader went through the line and the ball came to rest on the 2 yard line. Once more Gord tucked the "pigskin" under his arm and dashed into the end zone to our first victory in two long years.

Al Regg, who watched the game from a car, remarked to the victorious team, "you guys are swell." It sure was a well game to watch.

Football Captain Chosen Senior-of-the-Week

This week's nomination for Senior- of-the-week is well known in Fair- sports, particularly on the football team of which he was chosen captain this year. He also plays basketball very well. Well-liked by all, he is full of fun and can be counted upon for supplying laughs if the case demands.

He is a member of the Block F Club and was elected treasurer of this year. He takes his place on the Senior Student Patrol every other week, helping to direct the traffic in the halls of F.H.S.

So, to you Bob Cheabro, best of luck as Senior-of-the-Week.

Junior Class Organizes

On September 26, the Junior class held their first meeting of the year. Nominations were conducted and the following officers were elected:

President, Neil Seaman; Vice-Pres- ident, Warren Lewis; Secretary, Fish; Treasurer, Norma Zimmer.

The advisors are Miss Stoll and Mr. Brennan.

It is the hope of the class that they may have Junior rings by Christmas and that the Prom this year will be highly successful.

Hour Glass of '45 Wins Blue Ribbon

Honor Rating to F. H. S. Buffalo Evening News Awards

The Buffalo Evening News, spon- sor of an annual yearbook contest, has awarded Fairport High School a blue ribbon, or honor rating in the Western New York Interscholastic Press Association contest for 1945. This is their highest award.

The Hour Glass was returned with critical markings. One comment read: "The printer certainly didn't do his best. It is too bad. However, your planning shows through, even though the printer did not produce a first class job."

Another suggested: "Strive for more action photos. Show small groups actually at work or at least in their natural surroundings."

A final comment said: "A quick glance would tell your book much lower because of poor printing, but therefore your book should not be rated low.

Fairport Students Enjoy Shakespeare

Twenty-two students from Fair- port High School attended the Shake- spearean comedy "The Winter's Tale" Friday, Oct. 5, at the Masonic Temple in Rochester. The play was presented by the Theatre Guild of the Shakespearean Company. Henry Daniell, a well-known actor both of stage and screen, played the part of King Leontes, the noble King of Sicilia with Jessie Royce Landis, also of the Broadway stage, as the beautiful Hermione, wife of Antigonus, a part strongly portrayed by a popular Broadway actress.

To those to whom Shakespeare is a new experience "The Winter's Tale" proved to be an enjoyable experience. For those who had seen it before it was an unfamiliar story to a long list of ...

Original Christmas Play to be Presented December 20

English III Classes Invite Parents and Friends

Work on this year's Christmas play, is well under way. The play, "Voices from the Purple Shadows", written by Miss Snow especially for the English III classes this year is directed by Mr. Lynch, will be pre- sented Thursday, Dec. 20. The High School Glee Clubs under the direction of Mr. Vance and Miss Watson, will furnish the Christmas music.

Street and Miss Rumsey are in charge of scenery and costumes, respectively. Grace Pennies is property manager.

Neil Seaman, as narrator, tells the story of a family, sick at heart, be- cause their boy cannot get home from the Pacific for Christmas. Katherine Spence, Clinton Emery and Doris McIntosh play the parts of the mother, father and daughter-in-law, respectively. They are visited by four unknown soldiers, played by Robert Dirks, Philip Schrader, who make the

Fairport Defeats Rival 25-24

For the first time in four long years, Fairport went all out in beat- ing its greatest rival, East Rochester, 25-24, at East Rochester. However, the Pinetowners were greatly hand- capped by the absence of their star center, Pullano.

The first quarter was a rough and tumble contest with East Rochester collecting 8 counters and Fairport 6. In the second quarter, however, Fair- port took the offensive. At half time the red and blue was holding a 16 to 13 advantage. The third quarter again found Fairport leading with 23 points to East Rochester's 19.

The fourth quarter was the scene of the best ball game in three years. The score was 24-23 with East Roch- ester having a close one point lead. The contest was a close one with Fairport trailing by one point until Dave Beato made a spectacular one-handed shot from the far-side of the court, to Desperately East Rochester fought for another basket, but the Fairport quint was able to maintain its one point lead through the remaining seconds of the game.

CHATTER STAFF

Every Thursday noon a steady stream of high school students flow into local stores for their copies of the Fairport HERALD-MAIL. The CHATTER columns of FHS news are so popular that study hall teachers have to demand that students put papers away and get down to work.

The Junior Class of Fairport High has the sole responsibility of writing the weekly CHATTER. Norma Zimmer, this year's Editor-in-Chief, and Pat Dodge, Associate-Editor, under the supervision of Miss Snow, secure tip-top reporting of each week's news. Warren Lewis reports on all sports' activities. Grace Pennise, Rewrite Editor, and Louise Phillips, Copy Editor, check the copy for errors. After the copy has been typed by Harold Gardner's staff, it goes to Miss Snow for final checking and approval.

Participating on the staff are other Junior members who are interested in newspaper work. After a Junior classman has written ten accepted stories, he becomes a reporter. The CHATTER is the mouth piece of the school, and this year's staff has done a remarkably fine job of reflecting school life.

F. H. S. BAND

DIRECTOR: MR. VANCE

Under the direction of Mr. Vance, more students came to a realization of their musical ability. This is one of the oldest and most popular organizations in the school. Throughout the year the Band furnished music for many assemblies, putting forth special efforts for the Senior Play, Spring Concert and Commencement.

Their repertoire included stirring marches, overtures and other selections. Rehearsals were held on Wednesday nights.

"Look at that strut! — What form! — What co-ordination!" Enthusiastic phrases such as these may be heard at any game in which our Drum Majorettes participate. Lillian Fisk, as captain, worked out their many routines, and took the leading position in all their appearances. These girls practice long and hard and merit much praise.

CHORAL GROUPS

The Girls' Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Vance, proved its ability to provide fine entertainment. Likewise, the Boys' Glee Club and Mixed Chorus under the direction of Miss Watson has had a successful year. During the year a new choral group has been started. The Junior Girls' Glee Club conducted by Miss Watson, was composed of girls who had a desire to learn the fundamentals of music. This organization serves an excellent purpose in that it prepares young people for future participation in the Senior Girls' Chorus.

GRIDIRON WARRIORS BATTLE AGAIN

Fairport started its 1945 football season with a star-studded team of experienced veterans. After two weeks of enthusiastic practice, the team invaded Le Roy, but returned that night with the disappointment of a 7-0 defeat and confronted with the loss of a key man, Al Reggi, as a result of a broken leg.

Due to rain, the Medina game was cancelled. We next engaged East Rochester, our deadliest enemy, who topped us 18-0, in their sea of mud at Eyer Park.

Irondequoit fell stubbornly before us with a score of 12-6. Webster, our next opponent proved to be more stubborn. In the closing minutes of the game they squirmed through to a 7-0 verdict. With two league losses and one win, Brighton invaded us only to find Fairport still on a rampage. With the brilliant teamplay and drive of Gordon Schrader, we edged out a 7-6 verdict over the Twelve-corner lads.

Due to the loss of many team members through injuries, we lost both of the following non-league games to Medina and Albion, 19-6 and 32-13, respectively.

The season closed with Fairport in second place in the league and both Captain Bob Chesbro and John Gabrielli, honored by being placed on the mythical All-County team.

CAGERS COMPLETE SUCCESSFUL SEASON

An able group of experienced boys answered Coach Brennan's call to practice Nov. 12 to begin the 45-46 season. Captained by Neil Seaman they set out to see what the hardwood had in store for them.

In the first half of the league games, Irondequoit and Brighton both tripped the Red and Blue by two points. East Rochester suffered one of its two losses at our hands, while Spencerport and Brockport had to battle to win their 1 and 2 point decisions. Webster found our Cagers easier prey, and defeated us 44-31.

Our hoopsters opened the second half by swamping Irondequoit, 46-32. Brighton won a hard-fought game by four counters, while East Rochester, vastly improved, dropped us 47-29. Spencerport and Brockport fell easily as we closed a winning season with 9 wins and 7 losses.

TRACK

"On your mark, get set, GO!"

They're off, and its really close all the way, but Fairport always edges in for honors.

Our track team this year boasted some of the finest fellows in school and one of the best coaches Fairport has ever had. All our meets were fairly successful, and more than once Fairport placed high. With a good program and a better team, it was an interesting and profitable season for the speed demons.

CHEERLEADERS

Cheerleading can make or break a team. On hand at every tourney to lead the student body were our spirited six Varsity cheerleaders.

During Football season Fairport's enthusiasm was sparked by only four cheerleaders, but as Basketball approached, the need for an additional duo was realized. With the help of Miss Hodge, cheerleading adviser two more were selected.

This team gave unstintingly of its time and energy. It suffered a real loss when Betty Hudson and Shirley Costello were graduated.

MISS DONK

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

"A game for every girl and every girl in a game" is the motto of the Girls' Athletic Association, and of Miss Ruth Donk, its energetic adviser. The G. A. A. has several parties, picnics and play-days during each school term. The G. A. A. Council consisting of a general manager and four class representatives, a president, vice-president, treasurer and secretary, keeps the activities in order, and helps each girl in school to become the sports-woman she aspires to be. All in all, the G. A. A. is an organization in which any girl may be proud of membership.

BASKETBALL HONOR TEAM

As usual, Girls' Basketball was a very popular sport this year. There were four class teams. The girls who made the First Honor Team were all from the Senior Class, elected by the rest of the high school girls. It is always a great thrill to be chosen for membership on this Honor Team.

The success of these two seasonal sports, Basketball and Field Hockey, is due in no small measure to their very popular coach, Miss Ruth Donk.

SHIRLEY AND VIVIAN BULLY

FIELD HOCKEY

Even though this is only the second year Field Hockey has been played in Fairport High, there was a great turnout of "Eager Beavers." At the beginning of the season the members of each team chose the girl whom they thought would be the best leader. These were Costello, Maloney, Hudson, Filardo, and LaPietra. The leadership of Shirley Costello brought her team to first place.

Towards the end of the season the Hockey Honor Team was chosen, and these girls were invited to compete against neighboring towns. The Honor Team members were selected by the vote of all players and represent the best talent in the school.

The girls' athletic program, under the capable direction of Miss Dork, includes a varied schedule ranging from calisthenics to dancing. The seasonal sports of hockey, basketball and baseball are interspersed with ping pong, badminton and volleyball. Sports-minded girls are enthusiastic about this fun-loving teacher and her energetic, health-building course.

JANITORS

Few people realize that it is not a miracle that our school is so clean and shining when we come in the morning. It is the work of our four faithful janitors, Mrs. Cobb, Mr. Hess, Mr. Prong, and Mr. Dunn. It is because of them that our windows are kept shining, and our floors gleaming. They clean our halls and class and locker rooms. Their cheery smiles radiate friendliness to every teacher and student whom they meet.

Our grateful and heartfelt thanks go to these four people who help to make our lives brighter.

HOUR GLASS STAFF

The main feature of the senior class is the yearly "Hour Glass". The seniors with the help of their advisers make it possible for every student in school to have a year book. Work on the book is divided into three departments, Editorial, Art, and Business.

The Editor-in-Chief of this year's Editorial Staff is Robert Johnson, a very capable and dependable senior. Bob with the faithful assistance of his Associate-Editor, Helen Voigt, and the careful guidance of Miss Snow, gave the assignments to the other members of the staff. This staff had charge of the photography, and all copy except the ads. The "Hour Glass" was planned and put together by the Editorial Staff.

The Business Staff had the hard job of financing this "Hour Glass". Money was raised by subscriptions, ads, and a generous gift from the senior class. The job was done efficiently by Billy Grabb, Business Manager; Gertrude Miiller, Subscription Manager; Mr. Schworm, adviser, and the rest of the staff.

Farewell

WE DREAM OF WORLD UNITY

". . . And so, Boys and Girls of Other Lands, . . .

On your journey through these pages, you have glimpsed phases of the American way of life. You have visited us at work and at play. This American system of education with its privileges and opportunities is rooted deeply in the foundations of democracy. It is a privilege which we covet for the whole world.

We Americans are a composite people of varied races, beliefs and creeds, but we stand united in the crusade for freedom and the rights of the individual. We have fought for those rights on the field of battle; we will continue to fight for them at the peace table.

For you of all lands, we covet the same opportunities and living standards that are ours. Separately we can do little; banded together under the power and prestige of the United Nations, lies your hope — and ours!

Yours for Everlasting Peace
